Bill Hewlett Slide Scanning Project

Sorry for the delay in replying to you. The slide scanning project has not progressed during the past year. I was talking to Bob Hunter, a 7th Div. and WCRA member who has purchased a scanner that is capable of scanning 12 slides in one go. He and I need to set up a date when we can get together to do a trial run. This could possibly bring the cost estimate down although he would be looking to partially offset the cost of his scanner.

Alternatively, my current Epson 4180 scanner needs to be either repaired or replaced as it no longer functions in slide or negative mode. I can still use it for reflective copy but not for film. If I replace it, I will go for something that will do a minimum of 6 or 8 slides in a single pass. This would make it possible for me to scan the Bill Hewlett slides here at home. I do need to do something about my old scanner as I have a substantial black & white negative collection that I want to get into digital format.

I will be at the 7th Div. AGM and can give an update at that time.

Cheers,
Greg
